The Redemptorists in Ireland together with all 26 Roman Catholic Cathedrals are celebrating the 150th anniversary of veneration to the 'Mother of Perpetual Help'. The intention is that the programme can be accessed by the faithful of the Diocese of Ossory and the large number of people who share in this devotion of Our Lady of Perpetual Help. All are very welcome.

How Do We Witness?

The most effective way of witnessing is found in the way we quietly live our lives. It is found in the values we hold and live by.

Just being here for Mass and observing our holy days is witnessing. People notice what we say and what we do. They really notice what we don’t say and what we don’t do. You may think that isn’t very significant but it is.

Just think of those people who have most influenced you. You probably don’t remember too much of what they said but you certainly remember their characters and who they were as persons. That is what effective witnessing is all about.

The way you treat others and how you speak about them is witnessing. The way you relate to others is witnessing. What you have to say about cultural values is witnessing.

If you are diligent in guarding what is continually on your mind your actions will follow accordingly. That is why keeping our minds from being filled with junk and keeping up with frequent prayer is so important.

Being a witness to what Jesus Christ said and did isn’t that difficult after all. Having received the Bread of Life we can enter our days with the risen Christ abiding within us to strengthen and guide us along our various ways.
